

BY THE NUMBERS

Office of Institutional Effectiveness

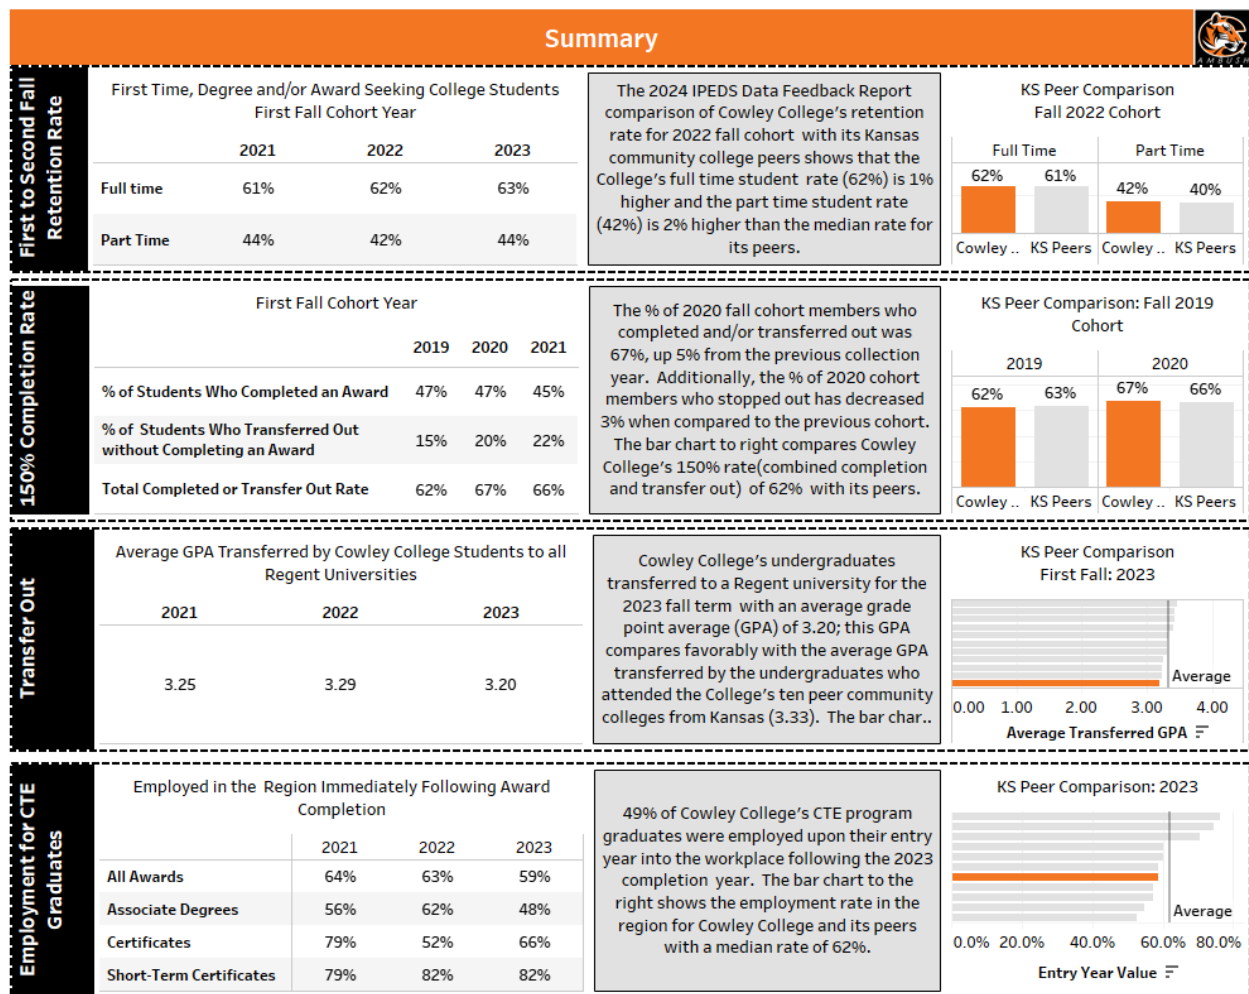

Student Success at Cowley College

Cowley College integrates action to support student success through the Accountability and Institutional Measures (AIM) and the 2022-2025 strategic plan.

The dashboards below provide a summary look at some of the key performance indicators (KPI) used at Cowley College to determine organizational success. These indicators focus not only on Cowley College's performance but also answer the question, "How does Cowley College compare with peer community colleges in Kansas?" More information about licensure rates for career and technical education (CTE) students can be found in the February edition, "Cowley College Supports Kansas's Workforce."

More information about student success at Cowley College can be found at the NCES Data Center and at Kansas Higher Education Statistics \(KHEStats\)

Summary of Key Performance Indicators (KPI) to Support Student Success

Join the Tiger Ambush! Working to use information to create quality for employees and students. For more details, visit the Office of Institutional Effectiveness webpage to read the corresponding, expanded report.